Re: House Passage of HB 649 Autonomous Practice by a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist

Tallahassee, Fla. – The Florida Association of Nurse Anesthesiology (FANA) today released the following statement in response to the Florida House’s passage of HB 649, sponsored by Representative Mike Giallombardo.

“We thank Representative Mike Giallombardo for his strong leadership and commitment to advancing HB 649, which passed today on the House Floor following its third reading. This critical legislation removes unnecessary restrictions on Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetists (CRNAs), allowing them to practice to the full extent of their education and training.

“HB 649 is a vital step toward expanding access to safe, high-quality anesthesia care—particularly in rural and underserved settings where patients often face barriers to timely treatment. By modernizing outdated laws, the bill supports Florida’s evolving health care needs and recognizes the essential role CRNAs play in improving patient outcomes while lowering costs.

“We are grateful to members of the Florida House for approving this measure and urge the Florida Senate to support the companion measure, SB 718 to ensure this meaningful reform becomes law.”
